Viewing details of an NGI actor

- To view details about an NGI actor, move a (mouse) pointer over a pin to see a name of the NGI actor.
- Click on a pin of the map to view details of the NGI actor.
- Close the detailed view overlay by clicking the X-button on the top left corner of the map.

Viewing details of an NGI initiative

- To view the NGI initiatives that have been registered to the map, click on the “Show initiatives” button.
- Click on a red pin of the map to view details of the NGI initiative.
- Close the detailed view overlay by clicking the X-button on the top left corner of the map.

Adding a new NGI actor

- To add a new actor, click on the 3 horizontal lines on the top left corner of the map. This opens up the left sidebar.
- To add the actor, click on the “Add” option from the top menu of the sidebar.
- Fill in the details of the actor. You may add projects that the actor is involved in, by clicking on the “Add Project” button.
- After filling in the actor details, click on the “Submit” button at the bottom. You will receive a confirmation email in the email address you have provided. The actor will appear on the map after it has been moderated by a representative of the NGI initiative.

Filtering NGI actors

- You can filter actors according to their type, by clicking on the “Filter” option from the top menu of the sidebar.
- You can select multiple filters.
- Click on the “Clear” button to remove all filters.

Finding NGI actors

- To see the list of actors already registered on the map, click on the “NGI Community” option from the top menu of the sidebar.
- Selecting an actor type will show a list of the registered actors.
- You can search for an actor by clicking on the magnifying glass option from the top menu of the sidebar.

Updating/Editing/Deleting NGI actors

- Registered actors will receive an automated confirmation email that contains a unique editing link.
- By clicking on this link, actors are taken to the map submission form, where they can edit their previously submitted data.
- Registered actors can also delete their data by clicking on the Delete button.

Creating/Editing NGI initiatives

- Like before, click on the “Edit Account” link you have received when registering an actor.
- Click on the “Open my initiatives” button.
- You are presented with a dialog box, where you can create a new NGI initiative, or edit an initiative that you have previously created.
- New initiatives are not moderated but appear immediately on the map.

Viewing a report

- Like before, click on the “Edit Account” link you have received when registering an actor.
- Click on the “View report” button.
- You are presented with a report about the latest map statistics, nearby actors, hot projects, as well as the latest NGI initiatives registered to the map

Requesting an editing link

- In case you have misplaced the email you received when registering a new actor, you can request a new editing link.
- Click on the “Request editing link” button on the bottom right corner of the map.
- You will be asked to provide the email you have used when registering the actor.
